Legion Auxiliary Continues Contest For New Members

An all-out effort to secure new members for Bert S. Crossland Unit No. 170, American Legion Auxiliary is being made by Mrs. R. S. Sleeth, unit membership chairman and her co-workers.

More local women are becoming eligible to membership in the American Legion Auxiliary every day as the war veterans in their families enroll in the American Legion. Mrs. Sleeth, said today, explaining the Auxiliary's eligibility rules.

"Whenever a veteran becomes a member of the American Legion," she said, "the women of his immediate family become eligible to the American Legion Auxiliary. They can share his Legion activities with him and help him in the work the Legion is doing for the welfare of veterans and for the security of America."

Four classifications of women now eligible to membership in the Auxiliary were listed by Mrs. Sleeth as follows:

1. Wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of members of the American Legion.
2. Wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of persons who lost their lives in either World War I and World War II.
3. Wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of veterans of either war who have died since honor was discharged from war service.
4. Women who themselves were enrolled in the armed forces in either war.

"The Auxiliary is inviting all of these women to take advantage of their privilege as rapidly as they become eligible and join the Bert S. Crossland Unit," Mrs. Sleeth continued. "We know they will enjoy and benefit by the association with other women of veterans' families in Legion activities."
